

Red Ribbon Campaign Starts For Holidays

Mothers Against Drunk Driving is conducting its fifth holiday Red Ribbon "Tie One On . . . For Safety" campaign, November 19, 1990 - January 1, 1991.

MADD asks everyone to tie a red ribbon to a visible place on their vehicle (antennas are popular!) to show their personal commitment to drive sober and as a reminder to others to help make the holidays happier by making them safer.

SUCCESSFUL HUNTERS—The Orange Coat Roundup Buck Pole was filled Thursday by 10:30 a.m., the earliest in eight years, according to Skip Madsen, owner of Skip's Sport Shop. The two biggest bucks were taken by two women hunters.

Rifle Hunters Find Big Bucks

"This was the biggest firearm deer season opener we've had in years" said Gail Madsen, owner of Skip's Sports Shop on M-72 West. "Nearly all the bucks on this year's buck pole were big deer."

Jackie Cragg of Grayling killed the buck with the largest rack over the two-day Orange Coat Roundup Buck Pole Contest, winning the Savage rifle and scope valued at $450.

"Because Cragg was only 14, the rifle had to be signed over to her father," said Skip Madsen.

Cragg was able to accept two $50 U.S. Savings bonds for being the youngest hunter and for hanging the heaviest buck on Friday.

Chris Millikin of Grayling was the first person to hang a buck on the Buck Pole and received two $50 bonds, one for being the first to hang a buck and a second bond for being one of the first ten to hang a buck.

Gary Boyd, owner of Caid's Grocery in Lovells, said this year's opening of firearm deer hunting season is the best he has seen in the three years he has owned the store.

By Sunday afternoon, November 17, Caid's had sold 159 second-deer licenses to hunters who had already killed a buck.

Of the hunters coming into Caid's, they counted 68 spikes, three 3-points, 18 4-points, 15 5-points, 18 6-points, 11 7-points, 20 8-points and one 9-point.

Boyd said bow-hunting season was also as good or better than last year with one 12-point buck taken.

Other lucky hunters to win U.S. Savings Bonds for being one of the first ten to hang a buck in Grayling were: Jerry Hebekeuser, Grayling; Dewain Hall, Grayling; Doug Parling, Alma; Mark Jacobs, Grayling; Joe Francis, Grayling; Jay Mathews, Grayling; Charles Demick, New Baltimore; Bill Lucksted, Grayling; and Tom Jankubiec, Jr., Garden City.

Decomposed Body Found By Hunter

A badly decomposed body in a vehicle was found by a hunter in Lovells Township at about 10 a.m. on Saturday morning, November 16.

Michigan State Police are not releasing the identity of the individual or the cause of death at this time.

"Because the body was in the car for so long our investigation is also taking longer," said one state trooper.

Recycling Bins Offered Through Refuse Hauler

Milltown Refuse will soon be offering recycling bins to its residential and commercial customers. The new colored bins are designed to help make separating recyclable waste easier for customers and pick-up less confusing for sanitation workers.

Initially, Milltown is going to offer blue bins for paper only, but intends to add red bins for plastic in the near future. Robert McLachlan, Jr., Milltown's recycling coordinator, said they also hope to expand the bins to include one for each different type of recyclable product.

"For the present time, people are going to have to put their plastic and tin in bags or boxes and set them apart from their other garbage," he said.

The bins should be available in early December and will cost customers a one-time deposit of $10 per bin. The deposit is refundable when the refuse service is discontinued. Customers can take as many bins as needed and can pick them up at the Milltown Refuse office on Industrial Drive. As bins wear out, Milltown will replace them at no additional cost.

State To Buy Former Rayburn Property

The DNR spent more than a million dollars last week for the purchase of River Bend Estates, formally Rayburn's, on M-72 East.

Roland Harnes, Chief of the DNR's Real Estate Division, said the DNR has been negotiating with owner, Gene Kraus of Oak Park, for about two weeks before they agreed on the $1,250,000 sale price. The agreement took place last Thursday afternoon, November 15, just one day prior to a mortgage foreclosure auction scheduled for November 16.

River Bend Estates consists of 9,000 feet of AuSable River frontage. This includes the north and south river banks. It has 1,000 acres of well drained uplands and 176.37 acres of poorly drained lowlands and swamp.

The property also includes a 4,400 square foot log frame lodge, a caretaker's home, two garages, a 1,400 square foot pole barn, an in-ground swimming pool, and several other small outbuildings.

Harnes said the DNR will probably remove the buildings sometime in the future.

John McGregor, deputy director of region II in Roscommon, will be responsible for disposing of the buildings and working with Forest, Recreation, Fisheries and Wildlife Divisions to design a management plan for the property.

Harnes said purchasing the property was a high priority for both the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund Board and the Michigan Natural Resources Commission. It will be dedicated as part of the AuSable State Forest and used for general recreational use.

The state will continue to pay ad valorem taxes on the property, but not on structures or the pool.

Kraus reserved the right to occupy the property until December 1. The state will take possession on December 2.

Norma Naour of Cornell Real Estate nominated Rayburn's for consideration by the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund in December, 1989.

2 Local Guard Units Activated For Desert Shield

Last Thursday morning Scott Hamlin was enrolling for the winter term at Ferris State University, majoring in business administration in his senior year.

By Friday afternoon, he was in his National Guard Captain uniform acting as commander of the 1439th Engineer Fire Fighting Detachment, preparing his unit for active duty in support of Desert Shield.

The 1439th and 1440th Engineer Detachments, based at Camp Grayling, will report to their mobilization site at Fort Sheridan, Illinois, by Saturday, Nov. 24. Camp Grayling Public Information Officer Maj. Foehl said it is very likely the units will be sent overseas.

"Yes, it's a big change," Hamlin told reporters at Camp Grayling last Friday. "Yesterday, I was a student and today the unit's getting ready to possibly be sent to the Middle East."

Hamlin said being sent to a dangerous area is something no one hopes for, but if the situation dictates it, you do your job. Hamlin has been in the service 9 years and is married to 2nd LT Shelly Hamlin and they have one child.

SFC Paul Smith, commander of the 1440th unit, said his family was going to try to find time to have Thanksgiving early before he left. Besides missing the holidays, Smith said he's going to miss seeing his son's high school basketball games.

"I'm an ardent fan and this is Jim's senior year," he said. "I'm trying to arrange to have them video-taped for me. I hope to be back in time for Jim's graduation."

Smith said he's counting on his daughter Dusty, a Grayling State Bank employee, to help his wife Bonnie through the difficult time while he is away.

Along with disrupting his family life, Smith's call to active duty could disrupt the Crawford County Sheriff Dept., where he is a law enforcement officer. The county does not have a large staff and another officer was already laid up with an injury. Smith has been in the service 16 years and is a Vietnam veteran.

Scott Carr, a member of the 1440th, was working full-time at the Camp Grayling armory but was planning on attending Lake Superior State University full-time before the call to active duty changed his plans. He's also engaged.

"My fiancée is not too happy about this," said Carr. "We hadn't set any wedding dates yet. We'll just have to take it as it goes."

Carr said his brother Ronald is in the Navy already serving in the Persian Gulf. Scott Carr has been in the service four years.

The 1439th and 1440th each have about 23 members. At least 12 of the 1439th members and four of the 1440th members are from Crawford County. The fire fighting units assist on crash rescues, fight structure, vehicle, aircraft fires, and can help with chemical decontamination.

In addition to the 1439th and 1440th, the 207th Evacuation Hospital unit based in Detroit with a 30-member detachment at Camp Grayling has also been activated. Nearly all of the 30 members of the Camp Grayling detachment are area residents, said Maj. Foehl.

The entire 207th has about 500 members and the unit has the capability to operate a 400-bed hospital.

The 207th will report to Fort McCoy, Wisconsin.

The Avalanche has been sending complimentary newspapers to local servicemen in the Middle East. For security reasons, the military does not release the names of all the servicemen in units sent there. Families are requested to call the Avalanche with addresses of the servicemen in the Middle East. Our list of servicemen in the Middle East has also been used for school classes to write letters to the servicemen.

The 207th convoy will be at the Camp Grayling armory from 6:30 to 7 a.m., Friday, November 23, for anyone wishing to give the troops a send-off.

The 1439th and 1440th convoy will be at the Camp Grayling armory from 3:30 to 4:00 a.m. Saturday, November 24.

PERSONAL PLANS ON HOLD--Scott Carr has to put his personal plans on hold after being activated.

United Way Nears 87% Of $56,000 Campaign Goal

The Crawford County United Way is at 87 percent of its $56,000 goal with just a few divisions left to report in to officially close out the 1990 campaign.

Direct mail contributions have really helped to meet the goal during this year's drive, said Bill Kraus, Campaign Chairperson. He encouraged anyone who hasn't contributed to United Way, even a small amount, to do so by mailing a check to: Crawford County United Way, PO Box 171, Grayling, MI, 49738.

Over $48,000 has been pledged for the drive that will fund 17 local agencies in 1991. The largest contributors have been the Weyerhaeuser Company with a total of $11,293.50 in contributions, and the commercial auction which raised close to $16,000. Other large contributors have been the military with $2,503; financial with $2,550; industrial with $3,550; education with $2,498; utilities with $2,112; government with $2,322; and K-Mart with $2,295. Mercy Hospital's drive will conclude next week and they expect to reach their goal of $3,500.

The Crawford County United Way is a non-profit volunteer citizens' organization that raises funds to distribute to agencies which deliver human services to Crawford County residents. By contributing to United Way, you help ensure that services will continue to be available to you and to the people that you care about.

Engine Company #1 Firehouse Opens At Museum

Engine Company #1 Firehouse is the newest addition to the Crawford County Historical Museum's display of county memorabilia.

Construction on the firehouse began in the fall, 1989, and was completed about a year later. It opened to the public for the first time on November 18 for the Uptown Grayling Christmas Walk.

The new museum has been in the planning stages for four or five years. Most of the building materials were donated and firemen from the Grayling City and Township Fire Dept. did the construction work. Jed Blaauw served as foreman, getting the construction crews together and purchasing materials that were not donated.

Donations of materials, money, and labor came from Jack Millikin, DuBois Lumber (Dave Wyman), Georgia-Pacific Beaver Creek Resin Plant, Houghton Lake Block, Wolohan Lumber, Mac's Drug, Rutter's, MATES, Kiwanis, Rotary, Grayling City and Township Fire Dept., Crawford County Road Commission, and the Crawford County Historical Society. The firehouse will be open during the summer months and for special holidays during the same hours as the depot museum.

Engine Company #1 will be used to house the fire department's 1937 Chevrolet fire engine. Other firefighting memorabilia such as antique brass fire nozzles, air packs, fire extinguishers, old uniforms, pictures, and department journals will be preserved at the firehouse museum. It will also have exhibits containing DNR firefighting equipment and pictures, as well as items from Camp Grayling's fire dept.

Museum curator Robert Ruddy said the firehouse museum is looking for all types of old fire fighting equipment that was used in the county and pictures reflecting the history of fire fighting here.

The historical society is negotiating with LTC Michael Thompson, Commander of the 746th Maintenance Battalion in Lansing, for a Model T fire engine used at Camp Grayling in the 1900s.

"We think the fire engine is a part of Camp Grayling's history," said Ruddy, "and consequently part of Crawford County's history." He said he hopes someday it will be returned to Grayling.

The 1937 fire engine already in the museum was purchased by the Grayling volunteer fire dept. on January 13, 1937. Ruddy said Fire Chief Cody and several firemen drove to Chicago to pick it up and then drove the open truck back to Grayling.

"It must have been one breezy ride," said Ruddy.

The fire engine served Crawford County residents until 1962. After its retirement, it was purchased by Larry McNamara. He later donated it to the Grayling firefighters. It was stored in various garages until recently when it was taken to MATES, where the men there stripped and re-painted it.

In its day, the fire engine performed satisfactorily, but towards the end of its service, Mayor Robert Golnick, who served on the volunteer fire department from 1961 until 1984, remembers it as anything but dependable.

Golnick said it was not uncommon to see firemen pushing the old fire truck down the street trying to get it started.

"One time, the firemen pushed it to a gas station and asked for a set of jumper cables," he recalled. "The station didn't have any, but a customer in the parking lot did and they borrowed his."

While all this was going on, Golnick said the second fire engine was on its way to the fire.

"We were lucky we had two trucks," he said.

Golnick said the open truck didn't have a heater. During the winter, many of the department's false alarms came at two and three o'clock in the morning when temperatures were below zero.

"We'd be driving all over the city looking for a fire," he laughed.

Golnick remembered that, at about this same time, the city's sewer sludge truck was doubling as the department's water truck.

When an alarm was received, the fire engine equipped with a 750 gallon water tank was sent to the fire while a few firemen went after the sludge hauler, filled it with water at the hydrant, and then left for the fire. This truck did not have baffles to stabilize the water in the tank, which Golnick said made for an interesting ride.

In addition to presenting information about Crawford County's fire fighting history and the volunteer firemen who served over the years, area firemen, dressed in their red suspenders, hope to use the facility to instruct fire safety to the more than 1000 children who visit the museum every year.

"There are very few children who are not fascinated by a fire engine," said Ruddy, "and that was another factor in the decision to build the firehouse."

Incidences of car/deer accidents are continuing to increase in the county as hunting activity in the woods causes deer to move more.

There were eight car/deer accidents reported on Sunday night November 18, bringing the week's total to 26.

The Crawford County Sheriff Dept. advises motorists to be on the lookout for deer as they drive the county roads and to drive defensively.

The hit and run listed in this week's report involves a vehicle parked at the Frederic Inn. Dollar value of the damage was not available, but the owner was able to drive his vehicle away.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

I applaud the state purchase of the old Rayburn property. It is the biggest chunk of property in Crawford County along the mainstream AuSable with about 1,132 acres on both sides of the river, including 9,000 feet of AuSable River frontage.

Yes, I know how this further limits the tax base in our county and how this affects our schools, local governments, and most of the residents here. I understand as a manager of a local business and a member of the Chamber of Commerce Board the tax burden we are carrying here.

As a long-time native here, I still feel placing the former Rayburn property into public ownership is the best thing for this county.

The state will continue to pay taxes on the property at the same rate as individual property owners. We will lose tax revenues on the buildings at the property. The state will not pay taxes on these and, in fact, will probably remove all the buildings.

On the financial plus side, this large tract will be designated for general recreational use and will add to Crawford County's tourism appeal. Tourism is the state's 2nd leading industry and has put a lot of dollars into Crawford County's economy.

But does everything have to be judged by the dollar impact?

Setting aside a large tract of land for future generations is a prudent choice. A lot of people who care about this community are elated about the former Rayburn property being bought by the state. There are all kinds of developed areas around the state but how many places are there as wild and beautiful as this stretch of the AuSable mainstream?

Blood Collections Down, Community Help Needed

Fall brings all the beauty of the season, but it also brings the realities of children getting injured, car accidents, and emergency surgeries. Good health is something we take for granted until an illness strikes or a surgery is needed to save a life. Then the reality is — a need for blood.

Blood needs are changing and demand support and dedication from healthy people. People like you and me. Blood donors in our region have proven their willingness to help by donating, but now those donors need some support.

The American Red Cross Blood Services, Wolverine Region, depends entirely on voluntary donations to supply blood needs for 36 hospitals and over one million people living in central and upper Michigan. What would happened if you needed blood and there wasn't enough? That could very well happen if donations continue to decline.

Blood collections have been down for the past six years due to cold and flu viruses. An average of 275 to 300 units of blood per day is needed to satisfy hospitals, and we are currently collecting about 225 units per day from our community blood programs, hemobile and the Red Cross Blood Center.

All blood groups are needed but O positive and O negative blood types are most in demand. The Red Cross is here to meet your needs, and with help, we can continue to serve the sick and injured with an adequate and safe blood supply. Donating blood is relatively painless and contributes to saving a life.

We invite each and every individual to take a few moments to become a blood donor. Contact Betty Pamerleau, 348-8348, Red Cross Blood Services Chairperson and make an appointment. You never know when you might need the very services provided by Red Cross. Don't take your good health for granted. Give blood!

Saving Planet Earth

By Carol Wakeley

There are over 140 million cars in the United States and each is probably driven 10,000 miles on a yearly basis. They have a lot to do with the pollutants in our air. Autos and light trucks are responsible for 20% of the carbon dioxide in the air. They also cause acid rain by emitting 34% of the nitrogen oxide found in the atmosphere. Twenty seven percent of the hydrocarbons that kill trees and damage lungs with ozone smog, come from autos. There are things we can do to ensure that our vehicles are less damaging.

First, keeping your car tuned up is the best way to make it more fuel efficient. It will use 9% less gasoline and that means fewer toxic emissions. By paying attention to your gas mileage you can tell if there is a problem and when to get it taken care of. Next, make sure all filters on the automobile are clean. A dirty, clogged filter uses extra gas. Contrary to what most people think, letting your car idle longer than one minute uses more gas than if you would start the car over again. If you are carrying extra weight in your car you could be cutting on your fuel economy. An extra weight of 100 pounds can decrease economy by more than 1%.

When buying a new car check fuel economy figures and compare specifications. Think fuel efficient. A car that gets 26.5 mpg. (which was standard for 1989 autos), will emit 20 tons less of carbon dioxide in the lifetime of the car than the average car of today. Air conditioners are an environmental disaster. They contribute to the greenhouse effect and ozone depletion because they leak CFC's. The air conditioner also adds to the weight of the car which means extra gas usage.

Don't forget the tires. Every two weeks we wear enough rubber off of our tires to make 3 1/4 million from scratch. Properly maintained tires conserve the energy and resources that would make new ones and save on gasoline. Radial tires improve gas mileage but steel belted tires are the most efficient. If all cars had efficient tires on them the saving would be about 400,000 barrels of oil per day. Make sure your tires are inflated and balanced properly, and get them rotated every 6-8,000 miles. This preserves the life of the tire and saves gas. Underinflated tires can waste up to 5% of a car's fuel.

Tires are bulky, do not decompose and provide a good breeding ground for mosquitos. Some landfills won't accept them because of the space they take up. Recycling of tires is still in the early stages. Once recycled they can be used for new tires, wire and pipe insulation, adhesives, carpet padding, hoses, and sporting goods. Tires today contain about 10% recycled rubber which could be increased to 30%.

In addition to proper maintenance, we can also try to drive our cars less or use alternative means of transportation. Walk, bicycle, or use a bus whenever possible. Plan trips to avoid excess gas. Automobiles are multiplying faster than people. Our society is built around having and driving a car. We own most of the world's vehicles, so proper care of them and taking cutbacks in driving is well worth the effort to help clean up the earth.

Almanack

By Richard Milliman

What happened at polls? Not much

SO WHAT HAPPENED at the Michigan election of November 6, 1990? I mean, what really happened? Not much, really... at least, not much that had not been expected.

That is, except for the governor's race. Democratic U.S. Sen. Carl Levin swept back into office for a third term with a whopping margin over Republican challenger Rep. Bill Schuette, as widely forecast.

Not many changes took place in the state legislature. Republicans kept control of the senate by the same 20-18 margin as at present; four seats changed partisan coloring, two each way. This really was no surprise overall.

In the house, Democrats picked up one seat. Democrats took back districts in Muskegon, Macomb, and Wayne counties which they formerly held, and Republicans took over seats in the Upper Peninsula and Swartz Creek which are marginal. No surprise here.

All in all, the state capital in Lansing will look the same. That is, except for the governor's office.

ELSEWHERE IN LANSING, the state supreme court will stay the same. Two incumbent justices — Patricia Boyle and Michael Cavanagh — won again; incumbents usually do.

Frank Kelley will continue as attorney general, and Richard Austin as secretary of state. They have been in their office longer than most of their furniture. Both are Democrats.

Michigan's delegation to Congress will stay virtually the same. Two new members — Republican David Camp and Democrat Barbara Collins — replace retiring members of the same party. Otherwise Democrats were reelected, and so were Republicans.

The widely-heralded "throw the rascals out" mood apparently didn't have deep roots.

Things generally stayed the same... except for the governor's race.

SO WHAT HAPPENED there? Well, Republican Sen. John Engler defeated Democratic Gov. James Blanchard. Or maybe it was Mr. Blanchard who lost to Mr. Engler. There's probably a bit of truth in both approaches.

In a race decided by less than 20,000 votes out of more than 2,000,000 cast, it's likely that not one single reason makes the difference. More likely, the result is a combination of lots of factors.

The most important one is that John Engler proved to be one terrific candidate. He did just about everything right, and that goes back a couple of years when he first started running for governor. He had a plan, and he had the determination to make it work. And he worked at it, night and day.

Mr. Engler proved to be one smart political dude. Most observers knew this right along; but most of us underestimated the depth of both his political savvy and is determination.

OR MAYBE IT WAS that most political observers overestimated Mr. Blanchard's political savvy. Of course, Mr. Blanchard's track record at the polls demands that he be considered the king until proven otherwise. That proof came Nov. 6.

The 1990 election was not one of Mr. Blanchard's better campaigns... at least, that's an inevitable conclusion in retrospect, during the campaign itself, however, conventional political wisdom indicated he was proceeding right along on schedule.

Oh, a few glitches developed along the way. Maybe booting Martha Griffiths off the ticket hurt a little; but Mr. Blanchard felt it had to be done, and the damage if any could be repaired.

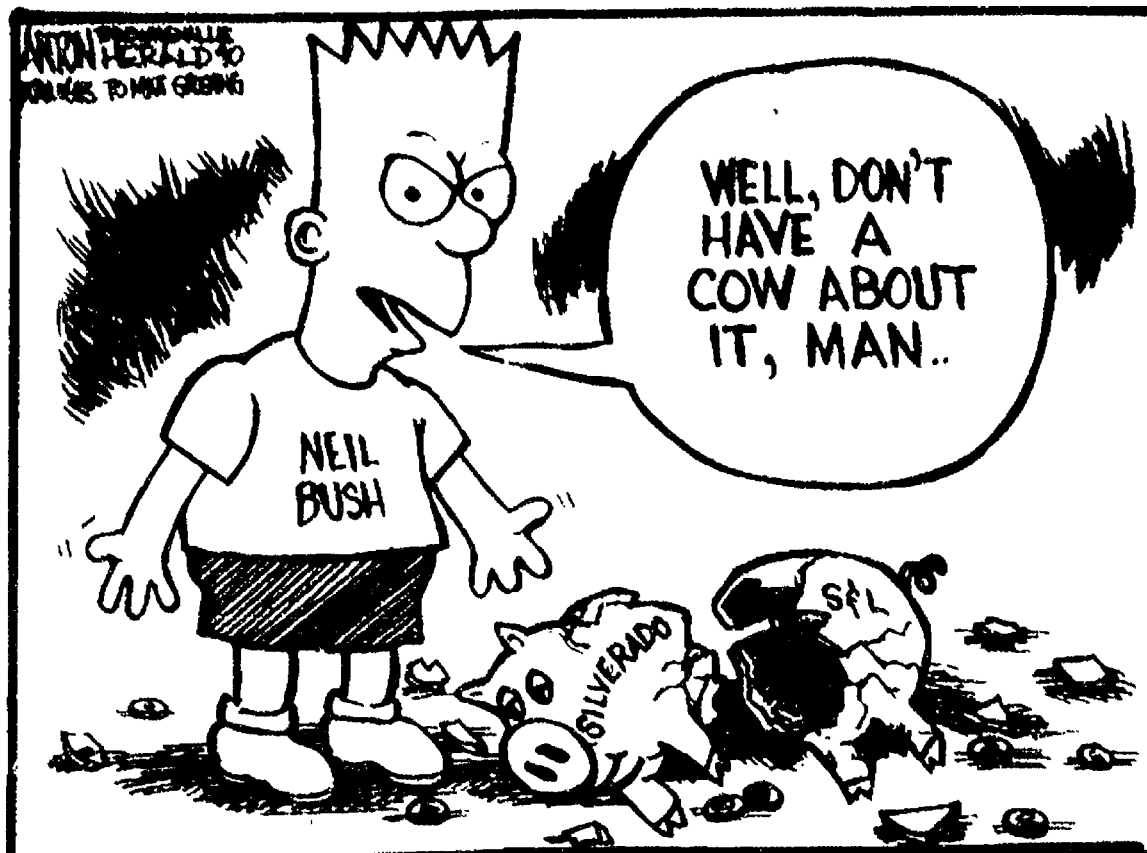

AND THE NEGATIVE political ads... that's the way campaigns are run these days; and Mr. Blanchard certainly was not going to repeat Michael Dukakis' mistake of remaining silent while his Republican opponent charged ahead.

Was there a problem with Detroit leadership? Where else could Detroit voters go?

Right-to-life activism? Well, the pro-choice battalions were lined up and ready to go too, with their own brand of political militancy.

In his own post-election quarterbacking, Mr. Blanchard blames the anti-incumbent mood of the nation and the anti-tax climate generally. The governor's the leader, and if the people are restless, they take out their feelings on the leader. Mr. Blanchard's probably right in that analysis, too.

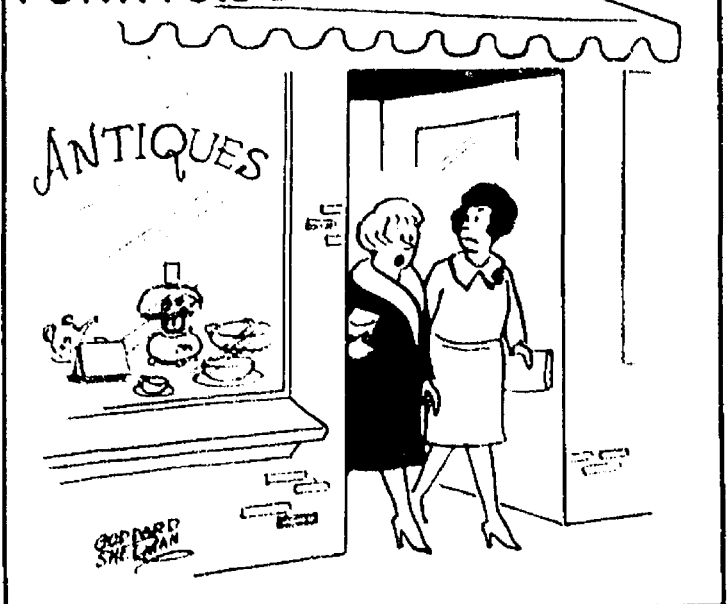

What really happened on Nov. 6 in Michigan? Probably it was a whole bunch of factors that combined for a stunning upset. And probably nobody will ever know everything that happened — even Mr. Blanchard and Mr. Engler, who were most directly affected by the results.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

Most of us if we want a little humor from our newspaper turn to the comic page. But at times that isn't necessary for we find a lot of laughs in the news section. We all know that congress has been working hard trying to come up with a budget cut to the bare bones. We all can expect cuts in service and higher taxes as our law makers struggle in their battle with the national debt. Still after all their efforts they thoughtfully appropriated nineteen million for the study of the effect of flatulent cattle on the ozone layer. It seems a Washington based outfit called Foundation on Economic Trends filed a lawsuit against several departments of the federal government for failing to measure the amount of methane gas produced by livestock with a gas problem. Nineteen million of our tax dollars were appropriated to carry out the study of the problem. Will the farmer and rancher of the future have to equip their livestock with all the emission control devices our cars have today?

To carry it on to the next logical step, will man in the future have to be so equipped?

How many of you old timers remember those embossed tin walls and ceilings that were so common years ago. I remember when several places in Frederic had them. Two places I remember having it are the old AuSable Hotel and The Mackinaw Trail Cafe where the Frederic Inn is now. You know the stuff looked nice when it had a fresh coat of paint. The cove work that joined the walls and ceiling was real fancy and added a touch of class. Of course in those days twelve foot or more ceilings were common. When you stop to think about it, it's strange that back in those days when heating was such a problem that high ceilings were the style. It must have taken a lot of extra fuel to heat all that unused space. Now with central heating and all our insulation, eight foot ceilings are the norm. With all the do-it-yourselfers we have today there would be a good market for that stuff if it were available today. I was to farm house out in Maple Forest a couple of years ago that had it on the walls and ceilings and it looked real nice.

Another thing I remember about the old hotel and the inn in Frederic are the beautiful paintings by Bill Johnson that completely circled the bar rooms of both places. I have often wondered when those places were remodeled and the ceilings lowered what happened to those paintings. Are they still there now covered and out of sight or were they removed? Mr. Johnson was a very talented artist and he knew so well how to capture the beauty of all the seasons. I hope they were preserved for too often in the rush of progress we destroy the beauty of the past.

Big Bucks

Flint; Don Sigmon, Fenton; Larry Banfill, Grand Rapids; Jackie Gragg, Grayling; and William Schiller, Frederic.

Bob Gill of Grayling won a $50 bond for being the oldest hunter as did Tracy Riley of Roscommon for being the first woman to hang a buck. Tim Lech of Grayling won the Bill Burrick handcarved wooden deer for the smallest deer.

Melissa Dumb of Bridgman was the first hunter to hang a deer on Saturday and also the first woman, netting her two $50 bonds. Doug Latuszek won a $50 bond for hanging the heaviest buck. Evangeline Papeneau of Port Huron won a $50 bond for being the oldest and the Bill Burrick wooden deer for taking the smallest buck. Steve Manlove, 15, of Detroit, was the youngest hunter.

Other U.S. Bond winners on Saturday for being one of the first 10 hunters to hang their bucks were: Lloyd Crawford, Grayling; Ron Rutter, Grayling; Dave Anos, Augusta; John Sinevak, Belleville; Evangeline Papeneau, Port Huron; Don Sund, Grand Rapids; Bruce Burkett, Grayling; Marvin Walser, Owosso; and Stan Rakoczy, Grayling.

Recycling

The 22 gallon bins will be constructed of durable plastic, part of which is recycled goods. They will have lids that will enable customers to stack them.

Residential customers will take their filled bins to the curb side on the last "pick up day" of each month and Milltown Refuse will pick up the full bins and will leave in their place the same number of empty ones.

Milltown customers are not going to be required to use the color bins at this time, but McLachlan said, in time, as more and more people begin recycling, they will probably be mandatory. "When people set their recyclable trash too close to their regular garbage or put it out on the wrong day and it is thrown out," he explained, "they call us and ask why." He said the bins are intended to clarify what trash is to be recycled and what trash is to be buried. As more people recycle the confusion is only going to increase unless a color system is used.

Recycling is not profitable at this time. McLachlan said landfills will take recyclable waste and not charge the hauler tipping fees for bringing it, but they are not going to pay for it.

"This just about pays for the fuel and manpower needed to pick the recycle waste up," he said.

"Recycling is not going to save people money," he said, "but it is going to lessen the amount of solid waste that is buried and insure a cleaner environment."

Goodrich Takes 2nd In Design Contest

Dawn Goodrich's pieced and quilted jacket won second place in the 1990 Hoffman Challenge, an international quilting and design competition.

Her design was judged against 28 other entries in the clothing category.

Second place prizes included two yards of Hoffman fabric, two Betty Boyink books, and $20 in quilting stencils. More important than the prizes, is the honor of having her design travel to quilt and fabric markets throughout the United States for a year. The clothing entries will also be going on a quilt retreat cruise.

"I didn't even know there were first, second, and third place prizes," said Dawn. "I knew they selected 100 pieces to take traveling." She said when she opened the box and learned she had won second place she was both surprised and happy.

"I knew I was up against the top quilters in the field and I also knew my jacket had some construction flaws," she said. "I didn't really care if I won or not," she continued, "but when I won I got really excited."

The jacket is hip-length with

an elastic waist and cuffs. Dawn combined several other types of materials with the challenge fabric, Hoffman Jungle Madness 6235 Teal. These included lamé, cotton, ultra-swede, wool and even leather. She also used several piecing techniques including quilt piecing and weaving, much as a basketweaver would the reeds of a basket. She chose to do her quilting in a silky rayon thread to accent the quilt stitches.

Hoffman Jungle Madness fabric has a zebra in the pattern which Dawn covered with thin strips of fabric making it look like it was inside a cage. She even made her own buttons using fimo, a type of clay. Dawn said she mixed several colors of clay to come up with a green that matched the green in her jacket and then formed them in the shape of leaves. They hang loose on the jacket and it closes with fabric looped fasteners. It is lined with Italian cotton that has a silky finish.

The jacket was all machine pieced and machine quilted.

Dawn began making her jacket in a class entitled "Sally's Jacket" at the Ice House in the spring, 1990, and completed the piecing work. Because she did not know how to machine quilt, she waited until the Ice House offered a machine quilting class and then she finished the jacket in time for the Hoffman Challenge deadline in September.

Dawn said she enjoys sewing, but does not consider herself a seamstress.

"I got interested in Wearable Art last winter when Winnie Riddle had a class at the Ice House," she said. "The jacket was a take-off of that class."

Clothing design is a special interest of Dawn's and she said she is learning how to take a pattern and change it to look the way she wants it to look, either by changing the fabric or the construction. "I'm still finding out how much design I am capable of doing," she said.

The Hoffman Challenge began three years ago when Betty Boyink from Grand Haven saw an unusual piece of Hoffman fabric and was challenged by fellow quilter, Holice Turnbow, to make something special from it. Still other quilters were challenged at a quilting show and the challenge was opened up to all quilters through articles in Lady's Circle Patchwork Quilts and Quilt World.

The first challenge featured Hoffman Woodblock 2100 Black fabric and drew 94 entries.

In 1989, a new challenge was issued for Hoffman California Fabric Countryside and over 200 quilters responded. Two groups of 50 each were selected to travel to various quilting shows.

This year Hoffman Jungle Madness 6235 Teal was featured in the challenge and 299 entries were received. Two exhibits of 50 quilts and a third group of 28 pieces of clothing will be among the 1991 traveling exhibits.

The 1991 Hoffman Challenge fabric has been selected, and Dawn said she has already begun looking at the pattern and wondering, "Now what am I going to do with this?"

River House Shelter Receives Artist's Support

Local artist Joe Gagnier recently presented a watercolor painting titled "Safe Harbor" to River House Shelter in Grayling.

Gagnier, a Roscommon resident, attended a presentation about domestic violence given by Fern Farber, River House Director and Barb Sands, Community Education Coordinator at the Roscommon Rotary Club meeting on October 4th.

Inspired by their request for locally sponsored fund raisers, Mr. Gagnier has offered to complete approximately 25 paintings to be sold at an art show in November, 1991, on behalf of River House Shelter.

Gagnier is a life member of the Scarab Club of Detroit, the Midwest Watercolor Society, and the American Watercolor Society. He teaches watercolor painting at Kirtland Community College and is represented by several galleries in Michigan, including Quorum Gallery on Mackinaw Island.

Information Offered On Free Stop Smoking Program

An information session will be held at Mercy Hospital/Grayling on Thursday, November 29 for persons interested in quitting smoking. The Fresh Start program will be introduced to the community by Ken Hoffman, a volunteer with the American Cancer Society.

Fresh Start is a smoking cessation program offered through the American Cancer Society. It involves a four week program that is free to all participants. Since the program's inception, there has been a 30 percent success rate of people who have quit smoking for more than 12 months, Hoffman said.

If there is enough interest, Mercy Hospital will offer the Fresh Start program in January 1991. For more information contact Donna Pfum, Volunteer and Community Services Coordinator, at 348-5461, ext. 193.

Conference To Help Local Family-Owned Businesses

Did you know that over 90% of all businesses in the United States are family owned? These businesses and the families involved face some rather unique challenges and opportunities. To address these issues, the MSU Cooperative Extension Service and Kirtland Community College have teamed up to present "Payoffs & Problems in Family Business." This one day conference is scheduled for December 7, at Kirtland Community College.

Regardless of the type of business — retail clothing store, family farm, restaurant, saw mill, or corner party store — this conference is designed to focus on concerns of all family owned businesses.

Seminar topics include: Succession of management and ownership, estate planning, inheritance tax as well as day-to-day problems such as family relationships, stress, communication, and goal setting. Speakers include: Irene Hathaway, Family Resource Management Specialist at Michigan State University and author of Guide to Starting A Home-Based Business; Judge Michael Baumgartner, Roscommon County Probate Court; James A. Anderson, Certified Public Accountant; and a panel of local family-owned business operators.

It is recommended to have two people from each business attend — the owner and a key family member who is directly involved in the business. Participants will receive a 40 page workbook titled "Goals for Business Operations and Family Life," two Small Business Administration publications, and a complimentary issue of Family Business magazine.

For more information and to obtain a registration form, contact Crawford County Extension office at the Court-house, or call 348-2841, ext 264. The registration deadline is December 3 and class size is limited to 40 people.

A regular meeting of the Crawford County Road Commission was held in their office in Grayling. Present were: Chairman Norman Parker, Commissioners Gloria Kraus and Clyde Anthony, Engineer-Manager John Keir, Accounting Clerk Joanne Thompson, Chairman of Roads & Bridges Bob Nelson and Ken Chapp.

The minutes of the previous meeting of September 28, 1990, were read. Commissioner Kraus made a motion to accept the minutes, with a correction, seconded by Commissioner Anthony. All voted in favor, minutes approved.

Mr. Fuhlbrigg, a resident of Grayling Township, appeared before the Board regarding a road name. The Board explained to him that the utility companies and the Road Commission frequently refer to the road name differently, but with the coming of the Emergency 911 system, road names should be uniformed. Engineer-Manager Keir will speak with Bruce Jones of the Building and Zoning Department of the County Building and the utility company in question.

Steve Hopkins, representative of Wolverine Oil & Gas appeared before the Board regarding an oil lease. The Board informed him that they are not interested at this time.

Permits were reviewed and signed as follows: GTE to bury communication cable at three locations, Chase Bridge Road and M18, Leline Road in South Branch Township, Consumers Power Company to install a pole and extend overhead lines on South Oak Road in Beaver Creek Township, and Wolverine Environmental Productions, Inc., was denied until the contractor with proper insurance information is supplied.

Jim Kidder, a representative of Shell Oil Company, appeared before the Board to present a Plan of Utilization with said company. After Board discussion Chairman Parker signed the Ratification and Approval for the Plan of Utilization for the Corners Marsh Prairie due Chien Unit.

Discussion was held on the new office/garage facility, deferred compensation, McMaisters Bridge and drainage problems in Grayling Township.

Upon a motion duly made, seconded and carried, it was resolved that John M. Keir, Trustee, is hereby authorized to take all action and sign all documents necessary to transfer funds accumulated in, and future contributions to, its eligible deferred compensation and retirement plans to the Public Employees Retirement Trust. The full Resolution may be found on file in the office of the Crawford County Road Commission.

Engineer-Manager Keir informed the Board that the permit from the Department of Natural Resources has been received for the Billman Road culvert.

The Board was given the cash flow projection and informed that the next Vacationland Council Meeting is to be held on October 17, 1990 in Midland County.

Engineer-Manager Keir is to prepare specifications for a new copy machine and also a storage shed.

A special meeting will be held to review applications received for the future Assistant Engineer position.

Travel Series Visits Singapore

On Thursday, November 29, the Crawford AuSable Community Education Office will present its third program of the Travel and Adventure film series at 7:30 p.m. in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at Grayling High School.

The film is "Singapore to Bali" by Pat McCarriker. Singapore is a city full of beautiful surprises. Even though its small size is packed with business activity and excitement, Singapore has the look of an enormous park.

Enjoy the colonial atmosphere of the famous Raffles

Hotel, a century old and still the same. Enjoy refreshments in the favorite spot of Rudyard Kipling, Noel Coward, and James Michener.

Experience the breathtaking view from the world's tallest hotel in Raffles City. See the port of Singapore, now called the world's busiest. Orchard Road offers the most expensive shopping in Singapore, plus excellent dining and world class hotels.

In contrast to the activity of Singapore, the island of Bali is calm and mysteriously beautiful. Experience the fabulous coastline and the interesting culture of the Balinese. Learn about terraced farming, the rice harvest, and the creation of wood objects, and the fascinating Indonesian shadow play.

Courthouse Closed

The County Courthouse will be closed Thursday and Friday, November 22-23, in observance of Thanksgiving.

Chamber Update

The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce will be hosting a "Lunch and Issues" program for its entire membership on November 29. The guest speaker for the program is Paul E. Vogel, Field Division General Manager/Postmaster for the Grand Rapids Division of the U.S. Postal Service. The topic for the chamber program is "How recent and proposed postal service changes will impact you."

A recent letter from the U.S. Postal Service Assistant Postmaster General, Deborah K. Bowker, stated that the postal service was very interested in speaking to area Chambers of Commerce to encourage partnerships to bring a national perspective to some postal issues which may affect businesses. Some of the issues addressed in the letter were the announcement of the fourth consecutive quarter of substantial postal productivity increase. The postal service attributes much of this increase to the use of automated mail processing equipment — "Postal dollars are being better managed." It was stated in Bowker's letter that "currently, more than half of all letter mail is processed on automated equipment, and by the end of 1995 virtually all mail will be processed using such state-of-the-art technology."

The proposed rate increase was also addressed, indicating that the across-the-board rate request was six percent higher than general inflation for the cumulative three-year interval since the last increase. The Post Office's commitment is to pay back the excess six percent by 1995, while continuing to provide American mailers with the quality communications and services they need.

Noted was the fact that for the first time in history a contract has been established with a national accounting firm for the independent measurement of postal service. The results of their surveys will be shared with the American people later this year.

Vogel will be addressing these issues as our resident expert in Michigan. Paul was appointed as Field Division General Manager/Postmaster for the Grand Rapids Division of the U.S. Postal Service in June, 1990. He is responsible for postal operations for virtually the entire state of Michigan except for Metropolitan Detroit and the western half of the upper peninsula. This territory covers more than 39,000 square miles, serving a population of over 4.9 million, and includes more than 900,000 city and over 735,000 rural deliveries. During fiscal year 1989, annual mail volume for the Grand Rapids Division was more than 2.4 billion pieces and revenue exceeded $437 million.

For reservations for the Chamber's "Lunch and Issues" Program, please contact the chamber office at 348-2921, by the deadline of Tuesday, November 27.

JEEP/EAGLE - people tell us of a noise affecting 1984-1989 Cherokees, Wagoneers and Comanches. This noise usually shows up on bumps or suspension bottoming under cold conditions. Although this noise is usually blamed on weak springs the real cause is a jounce bumper rubber that becomes stiff in cold weather. A new softer compound has been developed to correct this.

Resource Review

Bruce Patrick Conservation Officer

Early in September, Dave Richey, outdoor columnist for the Detroit News, wrote an article about lessons he would like his grandchildren to learn and live by if they should choose to be hunters when they grow to adulthood. He has been kind enough to allow me to use portions of that article.

He wished his grandchildren to learn to treat wildlife with respect, to nurture and protect it from poachers and unregulated hunting practices. To learn that hunting is a privilege which is dependent upon proper game management and which comes with the responsibility to care for our natural resources.

He wants his grandchildren to savor their outdoor experiences and to know that killing an animal is secondary to the hunt itself. There are thrills to hunting without the need to harvest anything. It will be their personal decision to kill or not to kill. But if there is a kill, there should be a tinge of regret, as is normal for a well adjusted person. People who kill and then rave about the blood and gore are as harmful to the future of hunting as are poachers, trespassers, law breakers, and other slobos who have no place in the modern day world of caring hunters.

And he wants his grandchildren to know and feel a kinship with the wild. The sparkling sunrises, clean tracks against new snow, the first heart-thumping adrenalin surge that comes upon seeing a big buck, a first glimpse of a black bear or the thunderous roar of a flushing grouse.

All this and more is part of the outdoor experience, the hunter's life and heritage. We should all hope Mr. Richey gets his wish for his grandchildren.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

The Lost Locket

I was hiking along a wilderness trail
On a beautiful bright fall day
When a flash of brightness caught my eye
At my feet a silver locket lay

I gazed at it in wonder
Wondered how it got way back here
So far from the beaten path
In this land of bear and deer

I picked it up and opened it
And much to my surprise
Found the picture of a beautiful young lady
With lovely limpid eyes

I wondered who could have lost it
Who this lovely young lady might be
Who she had loved enough to give them this locket
I couldn't help wishing it were me

I put it in my pocket and continued on my way
But that beautiful young lady filled my mind
It seemed to bring me good luck, for before the day was out
That long sought vein of gold, I did find

I staked my claim and soon sold out
For a price that would give me a rich man's life
I set out to find the lady of the locket
In the hope that I might claim her for my wife

I showed her picture everywhere hoping for a clue
Of where this lovely lady could be found
Till an old man looked at her with tear dimmed eyes Saying, "That's my Mary and she's been long beneath the ground"

Your Social Security

Some people in this area may soon receive a notice from their financial institution indicating that the Social Security number and/or the name in the institution's records are different than the ones in the records of the Internal Revenue Service.

In some cases, it may be necessary for the person to contact Social Security to change his or her name in Social Security records, or to verify the information already in those records.

If the person needs to change the information in Social Security records, he or she should have documentary evidence showing both his or her old and new names, as well as evidence of identity.

For a name change due to marriage or divorce, a certified copy of the marriage or divorce record is the best document to furnish. Photocopies of documents cannot be accepted, but your documents are returned to you.

It is usually not necessary to visit the Social Security office; you can telephone for the necessary form to complete, and handle the entire matter by mail. Toll-free phone service is available from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., weekdays except national holidays. The number is 1-800-234-SSA (1-800-234-5772). The best times to call are early in the morning and late afternoon.

Not long before the snow came a friend gave me a sack with a number of spiny burrs in it, and asked me if I could identify them. I had come up with at least two ideas before it dawned on me that what I held was the burr of an American Chestnut.

The Chestnut, American variety, is the tree of legend being called by some the queen of the eastern American forest, until a fatal bark disease eliminated it from its range. Interestingly, there are here and there a few mature specimens that still produce nuts and have resisted the blight. Scientists are discovering that some of the Chestnut trees are producing an antibody to the blight. It is my hope that the twelve burrs I planted will produce seedlings and ultimately trees resistant to the blight.

In the old days, the wood was used for posts, poles, railroad ties, and interior trim. The wood is durable in contact with the soil and the bark was rich in tannic acid. Perhaps the most important feature of the Chestnut were the bountiful crops of nuts which were relished by man and wildlife alike. Unlike the Beech and Oak, the Chestnut produces a crop of nuts each year because it doesn't blossom until late June after the danger of frost is past.

While I may never see a

Chestnut tree reach one hundred feet in height and eight feet in diameter, it will be exciting to see what has taken place when spring comes again.

Alcona Knocks Vikings Out 8th Graders Finish With Victory

The Grayling High School girls varsity basketball team lost their district tournament game to conference foe Lincoln-Alcona, 52-27, on November 14.

Grayling played even-up basketball with Alcona throughout the first half. The first quarter score was 10-10, and by the end of the second period, Grayling trailed by only five points (20-15).

But L-A outscored the Vikings, 17-7, in the third period, and again in the fourth quarter, 15-5.

Scoring for Grayling were senior Heather Stephenson, 12; senior Nikki Morrill, eight; senior Claudine Allen, three; sophomore Heidi Craigie, two; and junior Michelle Parker and sophomore Amy Vandecar, one apiece.

"The long and the short of it," said Coach Howard Lehti, "is that we played poor defense on their two big scorers. They had two people who had more points than our whole team."

"They used the same strategy as they did in their last two ball games against us," continued Coach Lehti. "It was no secret what they were going to do, with their nice outside shooter and their two big girls inside, but we didn't have the personnel to stop them."

Lehti was referring to the loss of junior Brenda Moshier, who went out with a dislocated knee in the third period.

"Brenda is one of the main reasons why we stayed close in the first half," said Lehti. "When she went down, we couldn't defend the basket low and their big girls went to work on us."

The team has also gone without the services of seniors Lisa Jo Barber and Shannon Hinds, both regulars who have been out with injuries the last few games.

Lehti said that poor rebounding against Alcona, coupled with a low shooting average of 15 percent, "is the main reason we were eliminated Wednesday. We just didn't have the defensive position and strength, nor the fire power."

Nevertheless, the coach said that "Grayling proved they can play in the new conference," in which they finished in 3rd place in 1990.

"And with the personnel from this year's junior varsity team, we have great expectations for next year. Our goal is set already—do better than 3rd place."

The Grayling Middle School 8th grade girls basketball team finished their 1990 season with a big 35-15 win over Boyne City in their annual invitational tournament.

The victory earned Grayling the 3rd place trophy in the tournament, held in Gaylord this year. (Next year will be Grayling's turn to host the tournament.)

In the Boyne City contest, held on November 12, Nicole Parker was high scorer for the Vikings with 19 points. Lynne Rochette followed with eight. Misty Burden contributed six and Danyell Galvani made two.

The GMS team lost its first game to Johannesburg, 26-24, in overtime on November 7.

"It was a real good game," said Coach Jim Parker. "The girls probably played one of their best games all year."

Parker again led the Vikings in the scoring column with 14. Mandy Duvall and Nicole Wilcox had three apiece, and Kim Haske and Rochette made two each.

Parker said that his entire team, especially Misty Burden and Danyell Galvani, played very good defense.

Grayling had been beaten twice by Joburg during the regular season by bigger scores (32-17, 32-18), but "we were ready for them this time," continued Coach Parker.

Gaylord won the 1st place trophy and Johannesburg, 2nd place. Boyne City came in 4th place.

The Grayling 8th grade squad finished its regular season with a 7-5 record. "It was a real good, enjoyable season," concluded Parker. "The girls improved throughout the year."

FOOTBALL CONTEST

Bob Gingerich won the weekly prizes for the Nov. 17-19 games by beating out Jim Van Dyke on the first tiebreaker.

Both of these folks obviously got the 5-point bonus game right. Only 14 persons out of 123 picked the Lions in an attempt to pick up points on the rest of the pack. Those losing out on the Lions gamble were Michael Brandel, Charlie Schoen, Darrell Metzger, Mark Hartman, Mick McNamara, Marvin Forbes, Shirley Daup, Carol Sieloff, Burnis Meech, Steve Bartholomew, Janet Raymond, Jamie Anderson, Rick Anderson, and Lindy Munsey. Four persons out of 123 picked the Penn St. upset, Dianne Tobin, Mark Hartman, Steve Bartholomew, and Michael Brandel.

Because of our early Thanksgiving publication on Tuesday, we couldn't list the overall leaders for you this week. We'll list everyone in the overall contest next week.

Brain Teaser

He who has it doesn't tell it;
He who takes it doesn't know it;
He who knows it doesn't want it.
(Last week's answer: a housefly)

PHYSICS EXPERIMENT—Mr. Mike Dean and students from his GHS physics class observe as Coulomb's Law (which states that opposites repel) is tested. The class used an oxide compound as a superconductor to levitate a magnet.

Mr. Dean explained that when a superconductor reaches a relatively low temperature (such as minus 200 degrees Celsius) it takes on magnetic characteristics, thus repelling another magnet.

Physics is the course offered to fourth year science students at GHS. There are 23 enrolled this year.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Gay Washington

Sodomite Stephen Gobie, admitted lover of the "Honorable" Barney Frank, has publicly made the boast: "If I were interested in ruining half of Washington, all I'd have to do is open my Rolodex." When Barney Frank was examined by the House of Representatives concerning admitted sodomite felonies, he received a mild "reprimand" by his "compassionate colleagues." If convicted in a civil court under DC Criminal Code he could have received over 17 years in prison.

The Times has reported that one top-level Pentagon officer feared a nest of homosexuals at top levels of government has "... been penetrated by Soviet-backed espionage agents posing as male prostitutes." A computer scientist working for the Naval Avionics Center in Indianapolis was discovered to possess a 140-page computer-generated list naming some 50 prostitutes and 30 patrons covering a 39 state area. These facts came from investigation of Dayton's car following his death while having sex with a male prostitute.

Future sodomite plans for America were stated in 1988 in the New York Native, a homosexual publication, "The (immigration) bill is considered the second of three steps leading to the passage of a federal gay rights bill. The first was the Hate Crimes Act which recently passed the House, the first such bill to include sexual orientation as a protected class. The third step will be action on the gay rights bill itself." The Hate Crimes Statistics Act was signed into law on April 23, 1990. Senator Jesse Helms described the bill as "the flagship of the homosexual, lesbian legislative agenda."

Focus on the Family reported that "School teachers in Madison, WI, are taught how they can integrate lesbian history in the public school curriculum." Project ten of the Los Angeles public school system is a classic example of the homosexual lobby for the nationwide homosexualization of all textbooks. A cable TV network has scheduled a gay soap opera entitled Forbidden Passions. The Episcopal Church recently ordained a practicing homosexual to the priesthood. The United Church of Christ's Minnesota Conference accepted into membership a congregation composed largely of gays and lesbians.

Under Israel's Theocracy, sodomy was called an "abomination," (Lev. 18:22), and was a capital offense. (Lev. 20:13). It is against God's law in the New Testament. (1 Tim. 1:9, 10). People who practice such sins "... shall not inherit the kingdom of God." (1 Cor 6:9, 10). Unless America repents, God will destroy her in judgment along with every sodomite!

Now Let Us Return Thanks

China, silver, and crystal gleam on white linen. The aroma of turkey, sage and pumpkin fills the air on this Thanksgiving Day, as each one is seated around the table in eager anticipation. Then, from the head of the table, a voice is heard:

"Now, let us return thanks."

How do we return thanks to God for those gifts He has given to us? Certainly, it is important to thank God in prayer. Yet, is it not also appropriate to show the Giver our appreciation by the very use of those gifts?

If God has given you strength... lift up the weak; hope... encourage the hopeless; joy... shower it on all you meet; a talent... use it to enrich the lives of others; financial success... share with those who have not.

God has given each of us the gift of His merciful love, that we might "love thy neighbor as thyself." Yes, we each have our own special gifts.

So, may your Thanksgiving Day be fulfilling and memorable, and on this day and every day, let us truly return thanks.
